

Spanish Coast Ports In Line For Battleship Shells

LONDON, March 15.—Spanish government charges that Italian troops are bolstering besieging forces of Madrid were expected today to get an airing before the 27-nation non-intervention committee this week.

Pablo Asera y Flores, ambassador of the Vatican government, urged the foreign office to press for immediate committee consideration of the allegations contained in notes handed both to the foreign office and the League of Nations.

Italy-German squadrons, the notes charged, "under the pretext of guarding the coast" planned to attack Barcelona and Valencia while Italian troops closed in on Madrid.

Speedy clearing up of the end of the blockade of the coast, already partially in effect as warships of four powers patrolled the Spanish coast, was an important task facing the committee session expected this week.

MADRID, March 15.—Spanish government infantry tank and air-planes units today hammered at retreating Italian columns. Guadalajara after seizing Valdepenas and Priego in a counter-offensive.

The columns smashed their way into Valencia, two days after the capture of the city yesterday in a counter-offensive which claimed to have disorganized the insurgent lines in 40 miles northeast of Madrid. Valencia is close to the Spanish-Guadalajara-Madrid road and lies 16 miles northeast of Guadalajara.

A series of terrific explosions rocked Madrid's northwestern university city sector early today when government tanks and aircraft drove a number of miles down insurgent positions in the sector.

A squadron of insurgent aircraft driven over Madrid but did not drop bombs.

Many Italians were reported slain in the Trijueque fighting. Sixteen additional Italian prisoners were taken.

Tax Adjustment Plus Crop Yield Saskatchewan Aids

OTTAWA, March 15.—Upward adjustment of the tax system showed, with improvement in crop yields, enable Saskatchewan to meet the present deficit on current account, said a financial report on the province made here today by Hon. C. A. Dunning, minister of finance.

The report, prepared for the dominion and provincial governments by the Bank of Canada, was variously received. It was hailed by Premier W. J. Patterson. "As a secondary source of estimate," said the report, "and allowing for the greater reduction of provincial income in Saskatchewan than in other sections, we believe the government would be able to raise approximately $2,000,000 a year more at the current level of general income to put Saskatchewan on an equal footing with Manitoba."

On relief expenditures are to be anything like those of recent years there was no possibility of Saskatchewan being able to raise the money for her share.

"Quite apart from the question of relief costs," the report added, "the position of the province is such that certain fundamental strains and weaknesses are indicated."

"Although a good year would cause a substantial improvement in the province's financial position, it is clear that the economy affects the provincial basis to support the costs of services now distributed by the government and the powers and responsibilities of government."

"Pending the report of this commission," the report noted, "the dominion intends appointing a Royal Commission to inquire into financial powers and responsibilities of government."

By THOS. WAYLING

FORTIN PLAN TO BE TALKED ON WEDNESDAY

Legislature Committee Will Hear Edmonton's Application

City council's application for two charter amendments required to give effect to the Fortin bond extension plan will be considered by the legislative committee of the legislature Wednesday at 10 a.m. The municipal council has heard the application last Friday but decided to take it for consideration by the larger agricultural committee on Wednesday.

The first proposed amendment to the Fortin bond extension plan would give the city power to use sinking fund monies for other purposes than the sinking fund. The second would remove the control of the Board of Public Utilities from the city council and place it in the hands of the city council.

The original report stated: "How many municipalities have had to deal with this problem? It is difficult to determine, but it is the intention to press forward with the plan, and the 'playable' by enlisting the assistance of the federal government. It will take a few months to complete this part of the investigation."

RECOMMENDATIONS
The report closes with a number of recommendations among which are the following:
"The provision of a single fund to the British army and was denied in Canada prior to or at the outbreak of the Great War. It was granted the same benefit, at the expense of the federal government, as those who served with the Canadian forces."

On the Surface Men Seem to Prefer Butterflies As Companions But They Vote For the Kind Who Know How to Make a Good Home

The one thing girls crave to know more than anything else in the world is what kind of women men want to marry. Hereafter this information has been withheld from them. The masculine preference in wives was a dark and unfathomable mystery, and the best the poor fellows could do was just to go on guessing at it and praying for luck in hitting some man's fancy.

Now, however, light has been thrown upon the subject. A group of scientific investigators who have been questioning men as to the type of wife they desire report that thirty per cent of the hundred went to marry an old-fashioned girl who likes to stay at home and cook and take care of babies. Twenty-seven per cent of them interviewed wanted a woman of social distinction for a wife. Twenty-five per cent sought one of spiritual character. Women with artistic leanings had four per cent more. Career women were simply not in the running.

That the quiet, domestic girl who is motherly little helper should lead all the remainder of her sex in masculine favor and be the peak of masculine preference in wives is startling and amazing news. No one will be more startled and amazed by it than the old-fashioned girl who is sitting at home in the beam of her father's favor, reading an interesting book, or embroidering dolls for her hope chest and waiting for the immediate proposal of a suitor, while her fashionable sisters who have none of the qualities that men profess to admire so much have stepped out to night clubs with their dates.

Of course, one girl knows what hidden longings are in the heart of a man, but judging from observation she is not to be blamed for assuming that if modern young men prize for old-fashioned virtues in young women they give a remarkably unimpaired exhibition of superior wisdom. In fact, so far as the domestic girl sees it, the girl with the fewest inhibitions and the least domesticity goes the farthest and the fastest and has the most beaux and the best time.

That this is sadly true we are bound to admit. Men, especially young men, are not attracted to women by their good qualities and they do not marry them because of them. They marry them because they want to be married and they expect their wives to be something totally different. They are attracted by glamour, but they want hard reality to live with. A man falls in love with a girl because she is beautiful, but it is a woman who is always ready to go places and do things, but he wants a stay-at-home wife who will never want to go further than the nursery or the kitchen.

Hence, it being a matter of common knowledge that there are so many snags, why little violets who were born to blush unseen in their native land and that the world is filled with old maid who were cut out by Nature to make ideal wives, it is flagrant to warn them that if they do not get married they will have to live with all the traditional feminine virtues, then men prefer as wives.

However, this apparent inconsistency in the taste of men for women need surprise no one for it has ever been their way to marry for love and then expect their wives to be something totally different. They are attracted by glamour, but they want hard reality to live with. A man falls in love with a girl because she is beautiful, but it is a woman who is always ready to go places and do things, but he wants a stay-at-home wife who will never want to go further than the nursery or the kitchen.

He likes to take a girl out who is a fashion-plate and who makes everybody rubber who sees her, but he wants his wife to cut her dress in the basement. A man may run budget and hunt for bargains in the market, but he wants a wife who will stand by him in the market, but he wants his wife to cut her dress in the basement. A man may run budget and hunt for bargains in the market, but he wants a wife who will stand by him in the market, but he wants his wife to cut her dress in the basement.

There's No Need For Worries About Cans

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
Are you in the can? Do you really fear poisoning from canned foods? Lots of otherwise moderate housewives still cherish this old-fashioned dread.

It is a real can of worms, according to scientists of the United States Department of Agriculture. It is not. It really isn't necessary to empty the contents of every can. The government scientists state that harmful chemicals in the food can be removed by leaving food in the can after opening.

GUARD AGAINST LATER SPOILAGE
Housewives have only two dangers to fear from canned food. One is the food, very rare nowadays, when the food was not correctly sterilized and packed in an airtight tin in the first place, or when the canister had developed a leak through damage in handling. So don't buy cans that are bent, bulged or leaking. If you do, open them, the food smells queer or looks abnormal don't use it or throw it away.

The other danger lies in the food after opening. Canned food, like any other perishable food, can be spoiled by improper handling and storage. To avoid this, open them, the food smells queer or looks abnormal don't use it or throw it away.

Do you know what cans are perfect? Of this steel lined plates placed with the Department of Agriculture reports, any amount of tin which might be found in food from a tin container would be so insignificant as to be harmless to health. Acid fruits and vegetables packed in uncoated tins may acquire a metallic taste. This is not dangerous, but it is not harmful to health.

So let's celebrate with some canned food. Make a list of your favorite foods. Buy them in bulk. When cold, fill with this mixture: 1 cup sugar, 1 cup vinegar, 1 cup water, 1 cup salt, 1 cup oil, 1 cup flour, 1 cup yeast, 1 cup baking powder, 1 cup baking soda, 1 cup cream, 1 cup milk, 1 cup butter, 1 cup eggs, 1 cup apples, 1 cup oranges, 1 cup lemons, 1 cup limes, 1 cup peaches, 1 cup plums, 1 cup cherries, 1 cup strawberries, 1 cup raspberries, 1 cup blueberries, 1 cup blackberries, 1 cup currants, 1 cup raisins, 1 cup prunes, 1 cup figs, 1 cup dates, 1 cup figs, 1 cup dates, 1 cup figs, 1 cup dates.

Your Children

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
"A flat bed and no pillow." This should baby begin his life. He will find that his feet go into his mouth nearly, reach for things and stretch his muscles. Ten minutes to half an hour is enough, once a day. Of course, when he reaches the creeping stage, he will get plenty of exercise.

Question—I have made two salad bowls of maple. What kind of varnish can I finish them with that will not be affected by vinegar and oil?

Answer—Use a kind of varnish that is wiped on with a cloth. It is offered as a floor finish. Being made with special resin, it is very hard and is not affected by ordinary acids or by grease. One coat should be sufficient. No varnish.

Question—Ten years ago I built a house with a concrete floor. The floor is now cracking and the concrete is crumbling. How can I lay a wood floor over it?

Answer—You must put a layer of waterproofing between the concrete and the wood floor. Gove the concrete with heavy impregnated felt. Lay a layer of the sheet, stick together with liquid asphalt. Bring the edges and ends of the sheets up the walls for a little farther than the corners with extra pieces. A wood floor laid on top should remain dry.

Question—I have a steam bath in my house. The rooms do not heat evenly. The heat is very quick, but it is not time before the upstairs radiators are hot. How can I get the heat to the upstairs radiators?

Answer—Every householder different in springing something different at the house. The heat is very quick, but it is not time before the upstairs radiators are hot. How can I get the heat to the upstairs radiators?

GERMAN NOTE SEEN PLAN TO SINK LEAGUE

Britain and Italy Would Be Substituted for Geneva, Says France

PARIS, March 15.—New promises by France and Germany not to go to war against each other were asked by Reichsfuehrer Hitler in his security pact before to London, authoritative sources said last night. French officials said "France is willing, but this is insufficient to meet the needs." They interpreted the proposed proposal as a virtual scuttling of the League of Nations.

KANE AS ITALY
The gift of the German note which officials said was almost identical with that of Italy, called for a scheme whereby Britain and Italy would be substituted for the Council of the League of Nations in designating an aggressor, they said.

This they contended, would paralyze the French security system, according to Hitler's purported plan, both Britain and Italy would have to agree on an aggressor in case of conflict.

Thus officials pointed out, France's hands could be tied in the case of German-Polish, German-Czechoslovakian, or German-Russian conflict, because under present treaty France can legally aid her friends only when they are attacked. Officials predicted a five-power conference in London after the Convention in May, possibly with a preliminary one before then to act on Belgium's demands that she be relieved of military obligations now binding her in France and Britain. The powers participating in the conference, it was said, would be Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Belgium.
